

Hamilton for the Day

*Featuring The Royal Botanical Gardens,
The Ancaster Mill, and
The Canadian Warplane Museum*

A lovely day trip in late summer ... start with a morning visit to the beautiful Royal Botanical Gardens (11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.), the largest botanical garden in Canada. Then we'll motor on to Ancaster for a Roast Turkey Luncheon at the charming and very popular Ancaster Mill (12:30 p.m. – 2:00 p.m.) After lunch we'll head to the Hamilton International Airport at Mount Hope for a Guided Tour of the Canadian Warplane Heritage Museum located here (2:30 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. approx.) The Museum is a special place filled with the magic of flight and the mysteries of times past. On display here are many of the world's greatest aircraft that played significant roles in World War II. The museum's most famous aircraft is a beautifully restored and airworthy Lancaster Bomber, one of only two still flying in the world today. Plan on joining us for this enjoyable outing!
